President's Corner

Warm and sincere greetings to our wonderful chapter members. As I begin this, my second "President's Corner" article, I am thinking of the great time we had this morning at the Wayne County Children's Fishing Derby. Every year, our members come forward in large numbers to volunteer their time to make this glorious event possible. This year was no exception, as we had several members helping to register, measure, and weigh fish for the kids who caught them. The smiles on the kid's faces say it all. Moreover, the Park officials acknowledged that this derby would not be possible without our support. For the tenth year, our weekly Cruz'n 528 Car Shows are providing a lot of fun and enjoyment for the local car clubs that support us, neighbors and friends that continue to come here year after year for the greatest hamburgers, hot dogs, etc, anywhere. Again, none of this would be possible without our volunteers—the backbone of our chapter!

Monday, May 27, 2013 is Memorial Day. As always, our chapter, together with VFW members will march in the Parade to honor, respect, and remember our fallen brothers and sisters. The turnout for this emotional event is always over the top, and I am sure this year will be no different.

Thanks to all of you, Vietnam Veterans are held in high esteem in our communities and in our Nation. As we know, this was not always the case, however, thanks to your untiring persistence, veterans are now receiving their rightful benefits; their deserved claims, and the respect we deserve! To quote one of the chapter's most respected leaders, Don Dignan, "It's a great time to be a veteran".

Welcome Home!

LOUNGE SIGN-IN RAFFLE

Be sure to sign in before the meeting and any day you happen to visit the Post. Members of all groups (VVA, AVVA, VFW, Men's and Ladies Auxiliary) are eligible. The current jackpot will net the winner around $350. It's a win/win situation.

TROOP SUPPORT

We had so many packages last month that we ran out of shipping money. The Ladies Auxiliary then allocated additional funds for shipping.

We then decided that based on the size of the 10th Mountain Division unit, 16 soldiers, we would direct some of the remaining 13 packages to another unit.

Late last month, Nancy and I and Frank Gilbo unpacked, redistributed and repacked the remaining boxes plus two more. Because of the special food requests of the POC of the 10th Mountain Division, we took all non-snack food and mailed it to that same unit. Everything else was packed up with four packages each going to D/1/501 TF Dragon, 2/12 Cav 4BCT ICD and A/2/22 INF 1/10 MTN. In every package we also placed several "Thank You" greetings from the elementary students at a local school in Novi. We read several of the letters and they were great. We know the troops will enjoy them also. Thanks to everyone who contributed time, talent and treasure this time and in the past.

If you have a son/daughter, grandson/grand daughter, niece/nephew who is deployed overseas and might like some stateside support, get us a name and address and we'll be sure to get a package sent to them. Remember what it was like getting a package from home back in the day? Keep all our troops in your daily prayers.

MEMORIAL DAY

Make it a point to march with your Chapter members in the annual Plymouth Memorial Day parade. The citizens of Plymouth always give us a patriotic response, likely topping any greeting you received upon returning to the States way back when. What a difference a couple of decades makes.

POPPY SALES

Thanks to all who gave a few hours of time toward this membership relief effort. We didn't tally up quite as much as last year but this year was still very respectable.

FISHING DERBY

Our annual Hines Park Fishing Derby for Kids, held in partnership with Wayne County Parks and Recreation was a huge success as usual, with beautiful weather as a bonus. Thanks to Bill Boudreau, Tom Brown, Gary Kubik and the rest of the volunteers. See the website for pictures.

CAR CRUZ

The Wednesday Car Cruz is well underway with our first rainout this past Wednesday. The crowds are good and appreciative of a good product. Thanks to Jim, Dave and Don for chairing this event. Darrell has been retained temporarily as a consultant.

I hope to see you at the June meeting. It's a great time to be a Veteran.

Odds & Ends

Membership

We had 3 individuals submit application this past month. Roger Riddell and John Sanborn, both Navy, and Andy Lawrence, Army have joined our chapter. Welcome Home Roger, John and Andy and welcome to Chapter 528. Our current membership stands at 253 individual and 63 associate members.

Lapsed Members: As of May 22, 2013 the following individuals have not renewed their membership:

VVA: Richard Newberry, Cornell Osier

AVVA: Stephen Boucher, Mike Palmer

Dropped From Roster: Ed Bowman, Harry Boyde, Mario Kamm

June VVA Renewals: none

June AVVA Renewals: none

If you have already renewed thank you. If you have not, please do so before the end of the month to keep your membership current.

Membership

As you can see from the number above the chapter has finally reached the 250 plateau in membership. This is quite an accomplishment we should all be proud of. During the last 12 months we have recruited 30 new members. Unfortunately we have also had 20 drop out. Retaining members is a problem we all need to be aware of. When you read my newsletter article check out those members who are lapsed or dropped from the roster. If you recruited them or are acquainted with them contact them and see if this was an oversight or if there is something we can do to keep them as a member. If we all work together we can reach 300 in no time.

Color Guard

In May the color guard presented the colors at the opening of the following events: awards dinner for Joshua's Trail, Canton Little League and golf outing for Operation Injured Soldiers. We also were involved in the Memorial Day ceremonies in Plymouth and Canton. Upcoming in June are the Salem parade at 11:00 on June 8th, a funeral service also on June 8 and a flag retirement ceremony at 6:00 on Flag Day, June 14th.

The Two aircraft listed below saw considerable service as fire support aircraft during the Vietnam War.

AC-130 SPECTRE A.K.A. STINGER II

During the Vietnam War, the C-130 Hercules was selected to replace the Douglas AC-47 Spooky gunship (Project Gunship I) in order to improve mission endurance and increase capacity to carry munitions. Capable of flying faster than helicopters and at high altitudes with excellent loiter time, the use of the pylon turn allowed the AC-47 to deliver continuous accurate fire to a single point on the ground. In 1967, JC-130A USAF 54-1626 was selected for conversion into the prototype AC-130A gunship (Project Gunship II). The modifications were done at Wright-Patterson AFB by the Aeronautical Systems Division. A direct view night vision telescope was installed in the forward door, an early Forward Looking Infrared (FLIR) in the forward part of the left wheel well, and Gatling guns fixed facing down and aft along the left side. By September 1967, the aircraft was certified ready for combat testing and was flown to Nha Trang AB, South Vietnam, for a 90 day test program. The AC-130 was later supplemented by the AC-119 Shadow (Project Gunship III), which later proved to be underpowered. The above photo is showing the AC-130 firing flares. Seven more warplanes were converted to the "Plain Jane" configuration like the AC-130 prototype in 1968, and one aircraft received the "Surprise Package" equipment in 1969. Surprise Package included the latest 20 MM rotary cannons and 40 MM Bofors Cannon but no 7.62 mm close support armament. Surprise Package served as a test bed for the avionic systems and armament for the AC-130E. In 1970, ten more AC-130As were acquired under the "Pave Pronto" project. In the summer of 1971, Surprise Package equipped AC-130s were converted to the Pave Pronto configuration and assumed their new nickname 'Thor'. Conversion of C-130Es into AC-130Es for the "PAVE Spectre" project followed. Regardless of their project names the aircraft were more commonly referred to by the squadron's call sign 'Spectre'

AC-47 'SPOOKY' A.K.A. 'PUFF THE MAGIC DRAGON'

The AC-47 was a USAF C-47, (the military version of the DC-3) that had been modified by mounting three 7.62mm General Electric miniguns to fire through two rear window openings and the side cargo door, all on the left (pilot's) side of the aircraft. Other armament configurations could also be found on similar C-47 based aircraft around the world. The guns were actuated by a control on the pilot's yoke, where he could control the guns either individually or together, although gunners were also among the crew to assist with gun failures and similar issues. Its primary function was close air support for ground troops. It could orbit the target for hours providing suppressing fire. Coverage given by a Spooky was over an elliptical area approximately 52 yd (47.5 m) in diameter, placing a round every 2.4 yd (2.2 m) during a 3-second burst. The aircraft also carried flares, which it could drop to illuminate the battleground. When the AC-47 was introduced there were no preceding designs to gauge how successful the concept would be. The USAF found itself in a precarious situation when requests for additional gunships began to come in. It simply did not have enough miniguns to fit additional aircraft after the first two conversions. The next four aircraft were equipped with 10 .30 caliber AN/M2 Machine Guns. It was quickly discovered, however, that these weapons, using WW II and Korean War ammunition stocks, jammed easily, produced large amounts of gases from firing, and, even in 10-gun groups, could only provide the density of fire of a single minigun. All four of these aircraft were retrofitted to the standard armament configuration when additional miniguns arrived. The AC-47 initially used SUU-11/A gun pods that were installed on locally fabricated mounts for the gunship application. Emerson Electric eventually developed the MXU-470/A to replace the gun pods, which were also used on subsequent gunships.

Seven Needs

TGIF Today God Is First Volume 2 by Os Hillman

Wednesday, May 22 2013

"The weapons we fight with are not the weapons of the world. On the contrary, they have divine power to demolish strongholds" (2 Cor 10:3-5).

Jerry had grown up with a father who was a successful workaholic. Although he lacked for nothing materially, he never sensed much warmth or compassion from his parents. Then, when Jerry was still in his early teens, his father died very suddenly. His large family was left with little support, and insecurity and fear became the dominating factors in the young man's life. Vowing to himself that he would never lack financial need again, Jerry worked hard at his business. A stronghold of idolatry brought reliance on the wealth he had accumulated rather than a prayerful dependency on God.

Arguments over money dominated his marriage. Distrust and greed permeated his home and business relationships. No one could "stand in his face" and tell him what to do. Finally, as his marriage disintegrated and his business gave signs of going under, Jerry renounced the strongholds of insecurity and fear that had made money his idol and had shaped his disbelieving view of God's ability to meet his need.

As the Holy Spirit brought conviction of the sins he had committed against so many people, he purposed to approach each one to seek forgiveness and make restitution wherever appropriate. His priorities shifted to God and family, then to close friends and business. God began to restore balance and intimacy with God and others as a result. God created human beings with seven primary needs as represented in Genesis 1&2. Each of us has a need for:

1. Dignity
2. Authority
3. Blessing & Provision

4. Security
5. Purpose & Meaning
6. Freedom & Boundary
7. Intimate Love & Companionship

Whenever we seek to meet one or more of these basic needs outside God's design we have set the stage for the development of a generational stronghold. As in the case of Jerry, who in this case is the author, he needed to discover the needs he was attempting to meet through a demonic stronghold of insecurity and fear.

Generational strongholds can impact our relationship with God and others. Today, why not begin to investigate root issues that may be impacting you or your family.

Personal note: I am the Outpost Leader for the Western Wayne County Point Man (International) Outpost. On the Point Man website (www.pmim.org), this explains what we are about:

Outposts are lead by Christian Vets who care deeply about veterans and their struggles. They fully understand the difficulties associated with returning home after a long and difficult deployment as well as the non-combat experiences. Outposts are places for veterans to talk, share and listen to others who have walked in their shoes. All Vets are welcome regardless of what country they served with and gender is irrelevant as both men and women have served and sacrificed for their respective countries.*

I do want all of you to know, that if you ever need someone to talk to and there doesn't seem to be a neighbor, family member, etc. that you feel that would understand, please call me up and I will be available most any time to meet you for a beer, coffee, or whatever. I hope I have gained your confidence in keeping whatever is discussed, between you and me.

Oklahoma Tornado Victims

The Ladies Auxiliary has donated toiletries to the victims of the Oklahoma tornado. Thanks to all who donated toiletry items. We had an over abundance especially lady's products so this was a good way to use them. Thanks to Patty Bielskis for this great idea. Our prayers go out to all the people affected by this disaster.

The Bear's Den

GO TIGERS!!!!

When the Tigers hit a home run, on a televised game, $1.00 drafts in the Post Lounge. We always have good stuff going on there. Start thinking about a dart throwing team. It would be nice to have a couple of teams that could travel around the area. They would not have to be members if you have friends. It could be fun. Also euchre is still a possibility for another tournament. The last time we had euchre, we really had fun if we can get participation again. The fishing derby was a lot of fun again this year. It is the first year that all three tagged fish were caught by the kids. Dave Reeves will again do a spectacular job mounting the largest fish for the winner for free. Thanks Dave! Call or stop by, there is lots going on here.....bear

Ted's View from the Backroom

Although homelessness among veterans declined 12% in 2011, 67,495 veterans are homeless on any given single night, in 2012

People are more than willing to help out not only Veterans organizations, but even the occasional homeless vet "holding" his sign on the freeway off-ramp around Christmas time, yet many seem to forget that these same Americans need help long after the holidays are gone and forgotten. Government money is currently extremely limited and available services are often over capacity. It is crucial that community groups and private citizens reach out to help provide the support and resources many Americans take for granted, such as housing and employment. Roughly 56 percent of all homeless veterans are African American or Hispanic, despite only accounting for 12.8 percent and 15.4 percent of the U.S. population respectively. About 1.5 million other veterans, meanwhile, are considered at risk of homelessness due to poverty, lack of support networks, and dismal living conditions in overcrowded or substandard housing.

Although these counts are really no more than estimates, as there is no way to be sure of the exact numbers, particularly when considering the transient nature of homeless populations, the Departments of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) and Veterans Affairs (VA) figures that there are over 67,000 veterans homeless on any given night. Over the course of a year, twice as many are estimated to experience homelessness. Although only about 8% of the general population can claim veteran status, nearly 1/5 of the homeless people in America are veterans.

Why are there so many homeless veterans?

In addition to the shortage of affordable housing, livable income and access to health care, many displaced and at-risk veterans live with the lasting effects of PTSD, depression, anxiety disorders and substance abuse, compounded by a lack of families and/or support networks. Although most homeless people are single, unaffiliated men, most housing assistance in existing federal homelessness programs is devoted to helping homeless families or homeless women with children. Although the VA's specialized homeless programs served more than 92,000 veterans in 2009, this still leaves well over 100,000 veterans on the streets. The remaining homeless vets must seek assistance from local government agencies, community organizations and faith-based services.

What seems to work best?

The most effective programs for homeless and at-risk veterans are community-based, nonprofit, "veterans helping veterans" groups. Programs that seem to work best feature transitional housing with the camaraderie of living in structured, substance-free environments with fellow veterans who are succeeding at bettering themselves. If you are not already part of an organization, visit a homeless veteran facility. Make a donation to your local homeless veteran provider, participate in local homeless coalitions, involve others by discussing what is being done in your community for homeless veterans and contact your elected officials.

PLYMOUTH VIETNAM MEMORIAL FALLEN HEROES

Welcome Home, Chapter 528,

Memorial Day is closing in on us fast and there is a flurry of activities that we all have been involved with including the Cruz'n 528 Car Show, of which this past Wednesday, was my 1st to actually get involved with since I joined the chapter. "Bear" had me supplying and handing registration forms out faster than I could shake my head. I'm glad I got to help that day. Let's be sure to get out to as many shows as we can while they are going on this season. It is a good time for camaraderie with Chapter members and we get things done and have fun at the same time.

I want to take the time right now to recognize the Fallen Heroes of the Vietnam Era that called this Area their Home. There are many of you that may know or heard these names that are etched in the Memorial here in Plymouth, you will know them better than I will, but as you think about these Fallen Heroes, think about their loved ones that are still connected to the name that they have remembered all their lives and please, at some time before you leave that sacred ground on Memorial Day, take a moment to stop and say something to the loved ones standing there, even if it's just to say thanks that their loved one served our country. It will mean so much to them. Guess what, it just might mean something to you too.

Each and every year our Chapter along with Wayne County Parks and Recreation offer residents of Wayne County the chance to fish for newly stocked rainbow trout. This annual event is one of the most enjoyable events of the year. Literally hundreds of kids from ages 1 week to 12 years are allowed to fish for free and without the need of a fishing license. Three prizes are given to kids from three different age groups. Chapter 528 donates $500.00 to help buy the fishing poles, tackle boxes, fishing nets and other appropriate items and to help stock the area with trout. One of our own members, Dave Reeves takes the largest fish caught and mounts the fish for the winner.
